

HIV Counseling and Testing Program Participation Requirements

SOURCE (Student Outreach Resource Center)
The Community Service and Service-Learning Center
Johns Hopkins University Schools of Medicine, Nursing, and Public Health

SOURCE's HIV Counseling and Testing Program is open to currently enrolled JHU students in the Schools of Medicine, Nursing, and Public Health only. Students must be enrolled throughout the entire 2009-2010 academic school year. NOTE: Undergraduate students in the School of Nursing must be enrolled in the Community Outreach Program to participate.

If you are interested in becoming an HIV counselor for testing clinics in Baltimore, please review this full 3 page document thoroughly. If you are able to adhere to the requirements and expectations laid out in this document, you may then fill out the online application located at:

www.jhsph.edu/source/HIV/HIVApplication.html

The application deadline is Fri, Sept 18th at 12 pm.

Note: In order to participate in the program, you must fully attend the 3-part mandatory HIV Counseling Trainings on:

Sat, Oct 10th (9AM- 5PM)

Sun, Oct 11 20th (9AM- 5PM)

For JHSPH and SON Students: Wed, Oct 14th (3PM-6PM) OR Fri, Oct 30th (12PM-3PM)

For SOM Students Only: Sat, Oct 17th (2-4 PM)

If you are not available during all of the days and times listed, then you are not eligible for this program.

Additionally, accepted students will be required to pay $25 in order to supplement the training costs.

Required commitment for the program is a min. of 2 shifts per month for the school year (3-4 hr/shift) and attendance at quarterly reflection sessions.

Below are the community-based organizations (CBOs) we are working with:

Please review the details about the CBOs that are participating in the HIV Counseling and Testing Program. You will have an opportunity to select which of these CBOs you would be willing and able to be placed with for your HIV Counselor placement. Please note the typical volunteer shifts at each site, as well as the travel options. This is important, as not all sites are easily accessible if you do not have your own transportation. Additionally, please consider your current academic schedule and what time slots you would have available to serve at any of these CBOs. All sites understand that your schedules will change periodically. However, it is expected that you will continue to serve your clinic throughout the entire academic year. This means that as your academic schedule changes, you will still be expected to fit HIV Counseling into your schedule. The exact time slots need not remain the same from term to term. You will agree upon your schedule at the CBO with your site contact and designated student leader.

JOHNS HOPKINS HOSPITAL EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT

The Johns Hopkins Hospital Emergency Department offers FREE routine HIV Counseling and Testing. Testing is available 16 hours a day (8am- 12:30am) 7 days per week to all eligible Emergency Department patients. Volunteer coverage is preferred during evenings and weekends, between the hours of 12 pm and 12:30 am at a minimum of 4 hours per shift. Typical volunteer shifts include: 1:30 – 4:30 pm, 4 – 8 pm, 8 pm – 12:30 am. On-campus. Main ED entrance is on Monument Street.

Student Volunteer Counselors are expected to:

- Agree on and document, with the CBO, the expected deliverables and duties.
- Serve for a minimum of 2 shifts per month at the assigned CBO (shifts are approximately 3-4 hours in length).
- Meet time and duty agreements made with the CBO, and provide adequate notice of absence if needed.
- Participate in the orientation activities at their designated CBO, which may include criminal background check, HIPAA information, reference checks, PPD tests, providing a resume, pertinent videos, drug testing, and attending an orientation session for the CBO (activities vary by site).
- Be prompt, willing, respectful, and positive at their CBO.
- Provide feedback about their experience and its relevance to their field of study through SOURCE's online feedback and reflection form.
- Be open to learning about cultures and lifestyles different from their own.
- Speak with their site preceptor and student leader if uncomfortable or uncertain about their responsibilities.
- Speak with SOURCE staff and/or the student coordinators if they are displeased with their service experience or need mediation.
- Adhere to the CBO's rules and procedures, including the confidentiality of the clients served.
- Know that they are not able to provide clinical care without the direct supervision of a faculty member from their Johns Hopkins University school (i.e. a medical student must be supervised by a JHU SOM faculty, students are unable to perform blood draws).
- Accept supervision and feedback that will enhance the learning experience.
- Coordinate their own transportation to/from the CBO where they are assigned to do HIV counseling and testing.
- Participate in quarterly service-learning reflection sessions with other volunteers, student leader, and site preceptor.
- Comply with MD laws/regulations regarding consent procedures, assisting with agency reporting as necessary, etc.
- Be open to providing information and referrals relating to reproductive health services including but not limited to: gender identity issues, same-sex sexual behaviors, abortion services, etc.
- Provide additional services at their designated CBO when not in a counseling session (i.e. administrative duties, health education, putting testing packets together, organizing outreach materials and giveaways, community outreach activities, etc.)
- Be patient at the start of the program, as there are a number of orientation activities to complete in order to be up and running with their assigned clinic as an HIV counselor.
