

The Doctor of Public Health (DrPH) program offered in Health Policy and Management is focused on Health Care Management and Leadership. The focus of the program is on measuring, monitoring and improving the clinical and financial performance of health services organizations, as well as training leaders for organizational change. The program curriculum is based on the Malcolm Baldrige Health Care Criteria for Performance Excellence framework and targets those who have master’s level training related to health care management.

Baldrige Health Care Criteria for Performance Excellence Framework

A Systems Perspective

---

