

HEALTH CARE EXPERTS SPEAKERS BUREAU

The American Diabetes Association (ADA) is seeking volunteers for their Health Care Experts Speakers Bureau. The Bureau acts as a ready pool of knowledgeable volunteers ready to go out into the community in the form of health fairs, senior homes, luncheons, etc. While a basic understanding of diabetes is preferred, ADA provides comprehensive training to these speakers and will continuously educate and update participants on necessary information. When ADA gets a request for an event, they will contact the list of volunteers and volunteers will then have a chance to indicate their interest, so there is flexibility in scheduling, though because of the training involved, interested parties should be looking to stay involved for a reasonable duration of time. For more information or to join the Bureau, please contact Shawn McIntosh, ADA Market Manager, at (410) 265-0075 ext. 4676 or e-mail smcintosh@diabetes.org. ADA can be found online at www.diabetes.org.
