

JOHNS HOPKINS
BLOOMBERG
SCHOOL of PUBLIC HEALTH

The Third
George G. Graham Lecture

The Inaugural
George G. Graham Lectureship
April 23, 2009

Interactions of Nutrition and Infection

Presented by
The Middendorf Foundation
Baltimore, Maryland

George G. Graham, M.D.

- Professor of Pediatrics & International Health
- Founding Director and First Professor in the Division of Human Nutrition
- Founding Director of the Instituto de Investigacion Nutricional, Lima Peru
- Numerous appointments on advisory & editorial boards –
 - National Academy of Science
 - National Institutes of Health
 - American Institute of Nutrition
 - Congressional testimonies
- Awards:
 - Joseph Goldberger Award (AMA)
 - Borden Award (AAP)
 - E. Leon Garcia Award (SPP)
- Teacher and Mentor
- Researcher: 250 scientific publications

Professor Graham's name and legacy have been enshrined at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health...

- 2005: Installment of the Endowed George G. Graham Professorship in Infant and Child Nutrition

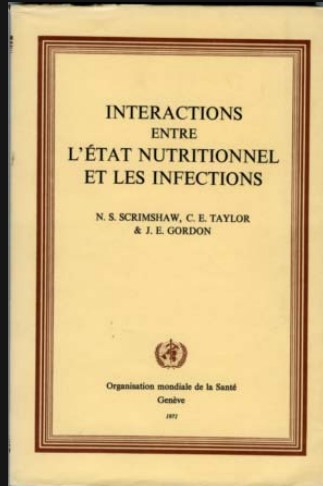

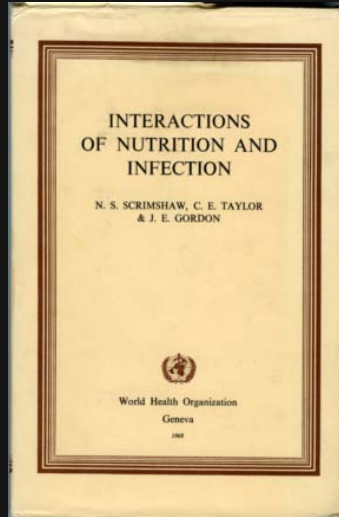

George G. Graham Professorship Lecture Series

- 2006: Kenneth H. Brown, MD, MPH
“Food fortification to improve young children’s nutrition in low-income countries: hope or hype?”
- 2007: William C. MacLean, Jr., MD, CM, FAAP
“Guiding public health with small nutritional studies: lessons of 25 years in Peru”

Inaugural Endowed George G. Graham Lectureship

Presented by the Middendorf Foundation

A MINI SYMPOSIUM PRESENTED BY THE MIDDENDORF FOUNDATION

Interactions of Nutrition and Infection

THIRD ANNUAL GEORGE G. GRAHAM LECTURE

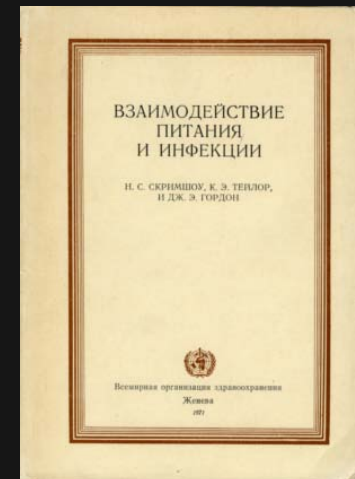

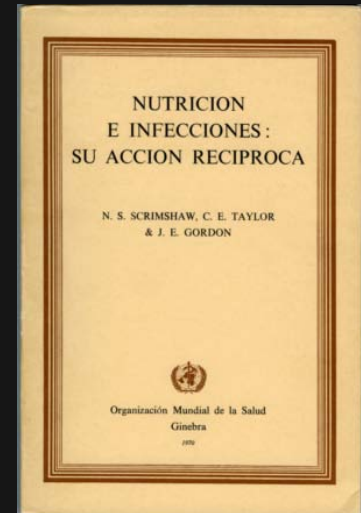

SPEAKERS
Charles B. Stephensen, PhD, MS
Claudio F. Lanata, MD, MPH
Robert E. Black, MD, MPH
Nevin Scrimshaw, PhD, MD, MPH
Carl Taylor, MD, DrPH

*Commemorating the 40th Anniversary of the World Health Organization Monograph
By Nevin Scrimshaw, Carl Taylor, and John Gordon*

Thursday, April 23, 2009
5:00 – 7:00 p.m.
Sheldon Hall, W1214
Reception to Follow
For more information, contact Monique Forbes-Dickerson at mforbesd@jhsph.edu.

For disability access information or listening devices, please contact the Office of Support Services at 410-555-7157, or on the Web at www.jhsph.edu/SupportServices/ESDA

 JOHNS HOPKINS
BLOOMBERG
SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

The American Journal of the Medical Sciences • March, 1959

PREVENTIVE MEDICINE AND EPIDEMIOLOGY

UNDER THE CHARGE OF

JOHN E. GORDON, M.D.

PROFESSOR OF PREVENTIVE MEDICINE AND EPIDEMIOLOGY, EMERITUS
HARVARD UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

AND

THEODORE H. INGALLS, M.D.

PROFESSOR OF PREVENTIVE MEDICINE AND EPIDEMIOLOGY
UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

INTERACTIONS OF NUTRITION AND INFECTION

By NEVIN S. SCRIMSHAW, M.D.

CARL E. TAYLOR, M.D.

AND

JOHN E. GORDON, M.D.

Charles B. Stephensen, PhD, MS

Research Scientist at the USDA Western Human Nutrition Research Center and an Adjunct Professor of Nutrition at the University of California, Davis

“Effects of Malnutrition on Risk of Infection”

Claudio F. Lanata, MD, MPH

Senior Researcher at the Instituto de
Investigacion Nutricional
Lima, Peru

“Effects of Infection on Nutritional Status”

Robert E. Black, MD, MPH

Edgar Berman Professor

Chair of the Department of International Health

and

Director of the Institute for International Programs

Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health

“Commentary: The Way Forward”

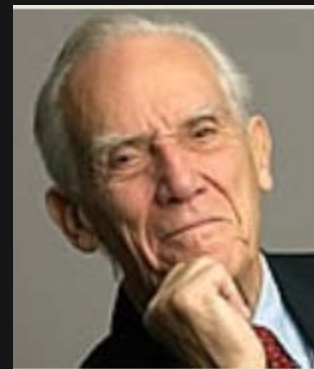

Nevin Scrimshaw, PhD, MS

- Institute Professor Emeritus at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology
- Founding Director of the International Food and Nutrition Planning Program at MIT
- Founding Director of the Institute of Nutrition of Central America and Panama (INCAP)
- Initiated and directed the World Hunger Program, and the Food, Nutrition, Human and Social Development Programme of the United Nations University (UNU)
- World Food Prize Laureate (1991)
- Presidential Gold Medal “Heroes of Public Health” Award of Mexico; Knighted by the King of Thailand
- Author of >650 scientific publications

Carl E. Taylor, M.D., Dr.P.H.

- Founder and first director of the Department of International Health at JHSPH in 1961—the first of its kind at any school of public health.
- Worked for 30 years in India—first as director of a Presbyterian Mission Hospital (Memorial Hospital) and as head of Preventive and Social Medicine Department at the Christian Medical college in Ludhiana
- Director of the Narangwal Project in India
- Director of UNICEF in China from 1984-1987
- Numerous awards: US Presidential Award for Service to Children of the World in Especially Difficult Circumstances.
- Co-authored “Just and Lasting Change: When Communities Own Their Futures”, published by Johns Hopkins University Press
- Teacher and Mentor to generations of public and international Health workers

Interactions of Nutrition and Infection: 40 to 50 Years Later

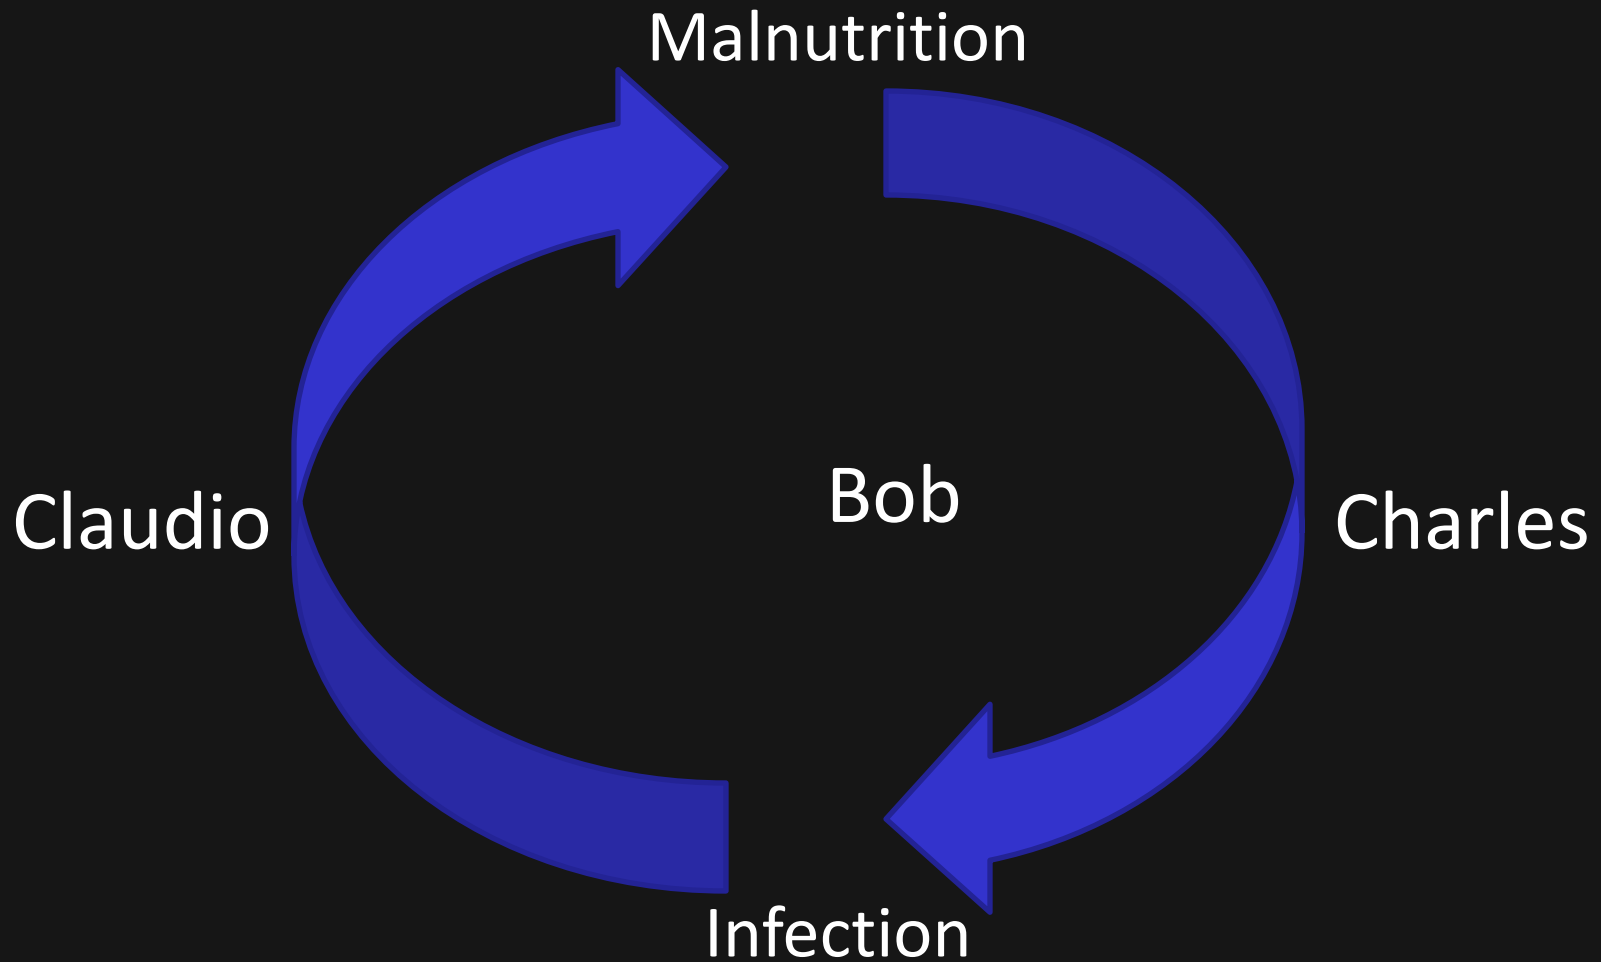

- Commemorative issue of the original WHO Monograph with proceedings of this minisymposium, and
- A special supplement to the Sight and Life Newsletter with the proceedings of this minisymposium

to be published by Sight and Life Press

Dr. Klaus Kraemer
Director

Vicious Cycle of Malnutrition and Infection

A Conversation with Nevin and Carl

followed by a
Reception on the 9th floor “Top of the Hop”