Statement

I declare that I am not part of an organization or group with publicly stated views that would cause reasonable doubt about objectivity in analyzing the data. I agree that the data will remain the property of Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, and will be provided only on condition that the datasets are not shared with others. I understand that the results from reanalysis of the data can be freely published in the scientific and lay press and will supply the Center for Refugee and Disaster Response a copy of any papers accepted for publication.
