About The Family Tree

The Family Tree is Maryland's leading nonprofit organization dedicated to improving our community by providing families with proven solutions to prevent child abuse and neglect. Through education and support, we provide families with the tools they need to help their children grow up to become healthy, productive and competent adults.

Children & Families We Serve

The Family Tree serves more than 23,000 families, caregivers and children throughout Maryland each year. Many come to us through our 24-hour Family StressLine. Others are referred to us by courts, the Department of Juvenile Justice, and other social agencies.

Our Programs and Services

The Family Tree's service model focuses on working with the whole family. Through programs that nurture children and provide family education and support as well as community education and advocacy, we are actually breaking the cycle of child abuse.

While Involved In Our Programs Families Report:

- No new incidents of child abuse or neglect.
- An improvement in their family relationships.

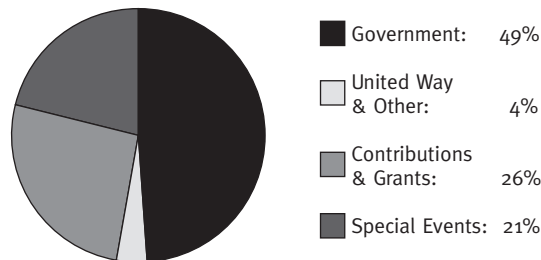

Facts About Child Abuse and Neglect

- Every 37 minutes a child is reported abused or neglected in Maryland.
- There were 31,500 reports of child abuse and neglect investigated in Maryland in 2005.
- Over 50 percent of kids abused or neglected have significant emotional problems, and over 50 percent have problems in school.
- 90 percent of all juvenile delinquents and prison inmates report they were abused as children.

How We Are Funded

- 79 cents of every dollar raised directly supports our programs and services.
- Our 550 volunteers who donated 16,601 hours of service last year, worth $311,600 in donated services.
