We are sorry to announce that the Bloomberg School’s 2020 Honors and Awards Ceremony, scheduled for Monday, May 18, 2020, has been canceled due to COVID-19. While we cannot replace the in-person celebrations, we do want to share our appreciation for your support. Please review the online program that highlight our scholarship recipients.
The Hiromu Tsuchiya Consolidated Scholarship Fund

Hiromu Tsuchiya came to the United States from Japan in 1911. Penniless, he worked his way through the School's parasitology program. After graduating in 1930, he taught at Washington University's Medical School for 50 years.

At his death in 1971, Dr. Tsuchiya bequeathed part of his estate to provide financial aid to students at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health. Income from this fund goes toward general funds for student aid, disbursed through the School’s Financial Aid Office. The income supports students not eligible for other aid through the School.

While there is no single student named as the Hiromu Tsuchiya scholarship recipient, we take this opportunity to honor his legacy and to acknowledge all students at the School who give so much of themselves to serve humankind through public health research and practice.
NEW AWARDS

Safety by Design
This fund supports students whose studies are in the area of safety by design, to reduce the degree to which we are damaged by man-made products and the built environment. The fund may also be used to support activities of students studying safety by design, meaning supplies, conference attendance, small competitions, etc.

Recipient: Nick Meyerson

The Flumenbaum Scholarship Fund
This scholarship provides annual support for doctoral students who are pursuing research related to refugee and disaster response. If there are no eligible students in a given year, the department may select an international student pursuing either a masters or doctoral degree.

Recipient: Yacouba Barro

Richard J. and Margaret Conn Himelfarb Centennial Scholarship
This scholarship benefits the Center for Health Security for doctoral or master level students who conduct research with faculty affiliated with the Center.

Recipient: David Kanamugire

The Christian Meriwether Kennedy Scholarship
This scholarship supports doctoral students in the Department of Population, Family, and Reproductive Health.

Recipient: Khidejha Asgar

Carrie Wolfson

The Roger McMacken Scholarship
This scholarship was established to honor Roger McMacken for his 40+ years of service as chair. This fund supports doctoral students in the Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology.

Recipient: Danielle Bouchard

Morgan Dasovich

Harry Liu

Lewis Robbins Fellowship to GPMR
Lewis C. Robbins, MD, MPH ’38, pioneered the philosophy of “prospective medicine,” linking behavioral health risks to the patient's survival prospects. In 1958-59, he wrote the first U.S. surgeon general’s warning on the health hazards of tobacco, helping to launch medicine’s war on smoking. This fellowship established by the estate of his wife, Margaret S. Robbins, supports a General Preventive Medicine resident at the Bloomberg School of Public Health.

Recipient: Nolan O'Dowd
SCHOOLWIDE AWARDS

P. D. Agarwal Scholarship
Support full-time MPH scholarships for international students at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health in Baltimore, MD. Two partial scholarships will be given every year to MPH Students—one from India and another from other SAARC Countries. These students must be current citizen of one of these countries namely Pakistan, Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, Maldives, Bhutan, Sri Lanka.
Recipients: Paavani Jain
Priya Pathak

Aoyama-Kita Scholarship
Dr. Hideyasu Aoyama was one of Dr. Anna Baetjer's students in the 1960s. He returned to his native home of Japan and became the chair of all departments of preventive medicine for all medical schools in the country. He is the president of Kochi Women’s University. Etsuko Kita, MD, PhD, completed a post-doctoral fellowship in the School’s Department of International Health in the 1990s. She is president of the Japanese Red Cross Kyushu International College of Nursing. This fund provides scholarships for public health physicians from Japan, Korea, and Malaysia who will pursue careers in public health practice in those countries, and/or who demonstrate an avid research interest in public health issues affecting those countries.
Recipient: Keisuke Kakimoto

J. Howard Beard Fellowship
This fellowship was established in 1989 by the family, friends, and colleagues of J. Howard Beard, MD, MS, who dedicated his career to improving the health of the people of Maryland. He turned the Anne Arundel County Health Department into a model agency, and his management and innovative programs have been cited with approval in a variety of public health publications, including those used to introduce students to public health and administration. The fellowship supports beginning MPH students who are graduates of the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine or enrolled in the joint MD/MPH program. Preference is given to candidates interested in careers in local or state public health work.
Recipient: Anna Marie Young

The Bergman Family Endowed Centennial Scholarship
Income from this fund is used to support an MPH student from Africa who has interests in non-communicable diseases, mental health, or oral health. Preference will be given to a student with previous experience in an African country, having goals to improve its health-care system.
Recipient: Hlohonolofatso Bookholane

The David & Patricia Bernstein Scholarship
Income from this fund supports graduate students at the School, with a preference given to students pursuing an MPH degree.
Recipient: Rabia Jalalzai
SCHOOLWIDE AWARDS

Cele & Pete Borcuk Endowment
Income from this fund supports nurses and nursing students studying public health at the School.

Recipients: Ellen Dupont
Emma Holland
Luke Larsen

Dr. Leroy Burney MPH Field Experience Award
Dr. Burney was a prominent American physician and public health official and also an alumnus of JHSPH (M.S., 1931). He was appointed the eighth Surgeon General of the United States from 1956 to 1961. The fund will support students in the Masters in Public Health Program at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health who submit a one-page essay on a public health issue critical to the United States and/or the World.

Recipients:
Ahmed Ibrahim Ahmed
Janice Allotey
Brady Campbell
Omar Cherkouki
Langan Denhard
Tolulope Fashina
Jessica Hawk
Shima Idries
Claire Karlsson
Martha Kirabo

Carr Humanitarian Scholarship Fund
To support full-time MPH students at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health in Baltimore, MD.

Recipient: Claire Karlsson

The Centennial Scholars Fund
In honor of the School’s 100th anniversary, the Centennial Scholars Program provides immediate impact funding to recruit the best and the brightest public health students to the Bloomberg School. The Centennial Scholars Fund supports students from all ten academic departments and the MPH Program.

Master of Public Health
Recipient: Elizabeth Ciaravino

Chao & Wong Scholarship
This scholarship will be used to support outstanding international MPH students. Selection preference is for students from lower and middle-income countries who demonstrate a commitment to returning to their home countries directly after completing the MPH.

Recipient: Martha Kirabo
SCHOOLWIDE AWARDS

CLF-Lerner Fellowship
The Center for a Livable Future Lerner Fellowship program was established in 2003 to support doctoral students at Johns Hopkins University who are committed to the discovery and/or application of knowledge about public health challenges associated with the current food system, and/or about the creation of a healthier, more equitable, and more resilient food system. Each CLF-Lerner Fellowship award provides up to one year of financial support to be used for tuition, stipend, and/or research expenses related to individual needs. Johns Hopkins students from all divisions within the University are eligible to receive support during any stage of their doctoral programs. The fellowship program also provides enrichment opportunities such as a journal club, trainings, and meetings with leaders in the field.

Recipients:
Caitlin Ceryes
Darriel Harris
Amelie Hecht
Gabriel Innes
Kayla Iuliano
Anna Kharmats
Anastasia Lambrou
Sara Lupolt

The Dean’s Alumni Advisory Council Scholarship
Created by members of the Dean's Alumni Advisory Council, this fund provides tuition support to deserving incoming or continuing students whose careers in public health will be dedicated to the global defense of human life through the prevention of disease, disability, and premature death.

Recipient: Sara Wallach

Endowed Scholarship in the Health of Mothers and Children
This fund was established to provide annual support to one or more graduate students whose interests, research and career plans are focused on improving the health and saving the lives of mothers and children.

Recipients:
Ellen Boakye
Gurpreet Kaur

Endowed Student Support Fund
Established in 2000, this fund supports students undertaking research projects in injury control or population control in developing countries. Preference will be given to those students conducting research in China, India, Indonesia and Brazil.

Recipient: Carolina Cardona

The Eskridge Family Student Support Fund for International Students
From 1931 to 1938 Lydia Eskridge was a student and research assistant to Dr. Robert Hegner, head of parasitology at the School. Her research focused on dysentery, malaria, hookworm and mosquitoes. She went on to become a parasitologist with a team of Hopkins scientists at a therapeutic institute in New York City, connected with the William R. Warner pharmaceutical company, later known as Warner Lambert. The Eskridge Family Student Support Fund for International Students reflects the lifelong commitment of Lydia Eskridge Arden to public health.

Recipients:
Omar Cherkaoui
Hazem Rihawi
Gillian Walcott
SCHOOLWIDE AWARDS

Global Health Scholars
Established in 2006, this fund supports students in the Master of Public Health Program.
Recipients: Rabia Jalalzai
            Gurpreet Kaur

Ruth Freeman Memorial Fund
The late Dr. Freeman, a member of the faculty and coordinator of the nursing programs at the School, was elected to the National Nursing Hall of Fame in 1984. This award, established by her family, friends, and alumni, recognizes an outstanding graduating or continuing nurse doctoral student OR master's student.
Recipients: Caitlin Ceryes
            Cori Plesko

The Howard C. and Jane R. Goodman Fund
Howard Goodman, MD, PhD, was a faculty member in the schools of Medicine and Public Health from 1977 until he retired in 1985. He had a long and distinguished career in medical science, including pioneering and leading the World Health Organization's Tropical Diseases Research Program. This fund was established by his family and friends to provide tuition support to outstanding American and international students enrolled in the MPH program.
Recipient: Rabia Jalalzai

Richard E. Hoffman, MD, MPH Endowed Scholarship Fund
To support students interested in studying injury prevention, epidemiology, control, and policy as awarded by the Department of Health Policy and Management.
Recipient: Ben Kahn

Christine Awori Hayanga Scholarship
This scholarship will be used as a current use gift for a term scholarship to support a full-time Master of Public Health student who is a doctor from an African country.
Recipients: Ellen Boakye

The Sibley and Catherine Hoobler Award for Excellence in Public Health and Medicine
As an alumnus of both the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine and the School of Public Health, Sibley Hoobler, ScD ’37, MD, combined teaching medical students, caring for patients, and pursuing clinical research. Mrs. Catherine Hoobler trained in dietetics at the University of Michigan, performed fieldwork in this subject for many years, and maintained a lifelong interest in nutrition. Dr. and Mrs. Hoobler established this award to encourage students to pursue studies in both the School of Public Health and the School of Medicine.
Recipient: Cierra Virtue

Lee M. and Maxwell C. Howard Scholarship Fund for International Students
Established by Dr. and Mrs. Lee Howard, this fund provides scholarships for international students. Dr. Howard was a graduate of the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine and the School of Public Health, and devoted his career to global public health efforts. Most notably, Dr. Howard served as Director of the Office for Health for the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) for 28 years. Among his many honors was his induction to the Hopkins Society of Scholars.
Recipient: Martha Kirabo
SCHOOLWIDE AWARDS

The John C. Hume Fund for Academic Excellence and Promise in an MPH Student
The late John C. Hume, MD, DrPH, was dean of the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health from 1967 to 1977 and a member of the faculty for 40 years. This award, established by alumni, friends, and faculty, honors Dr. Hume’s commitment to excellence in the MPH program.
Recipient: Rohin Aggarwal

The Keith Kuhlemeier Centennial Scholarship
This Scholarship supports students seeking master’s degrees in public health.
Recipients: Hooman Tadbiri
Anna Marie Young

Wendy Klag Center for Autism and Developmental Disabilities Internship
This fund was established with contributions from family and friends in memory of Wendy Schagen Klag, late wife of Dean Michael J. Klag. Wendy was a volunteer and devoted parent who was admired for her gentle way with children. Income from this fund will support masters and doctoral students and post-doctoral fellows at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health who are working on issues related to the health and well-being of children. Da-Yea Song, an MHS student in the Department of Population, Family, and Reproductive Health, served her internship with the Maryland Center for Developmental Disabilities.
Recipient: Xueqi Qu

The Cynthia and Robert Lawrence Scholarship
Robert Lawrence, MD, Director of the Center for A Livable Future, and his wife, Cynthia, established this scholarship in 2000. Income from this fund will be used to provide tuition assistance to a masters or doctoral student(s) and/or post-doctoral fellow(s) at the School of Public Health whose public health interests have a direct bearing on the priorities and focus of the Center for a Livable Future. Scholars will be selected by the Center director on the basis of academic excellence, future promise and financial need.
Recipients: Mariah Harris
Leah Weston

The Lillian Hiss–Ethel Crosby Scholarship Fund
This award was established to honor Lillian Hiss and Ethel Crosby, nurses who dedicated their careers to public health nursing at the Catonsville Health Clinic. In 1971, the Clinic was sold, and the proceeds were donated to the School to offer support to graduate students with nursing backgrounds.
Recipient: Emma Holland

Edward and Kathy Ludwig Scholarship
This fund provides support to students in the School’s doctoral program.
Recipient: Pierre Muhoza

Carol Eliasberg Martin Scholarship
This fund was established in 1998 by the Eliasberg Family Foundation in memory of Carol Eliasberg Martin, MHS ‘82 who died in 1997 after a long battle with cancer. This fund provides annual support to an outstanding doctoral student or postdoctoral fellow whose work holds promise for preventing cancers that affect women, with a focus on breast and ovarian cancer.
Recipients: Zhengyi Deng
Chinenye Ugoji
Dongqing Xu
SCHOOLWIDE AWARDS

The Dr. Cynthia Maung Endowed Scholarship Fund
This fund supports medical students completing the 3rd or 4th year of their medical training to attend the Bloomberg School of Public Health to complete a Master of Public Health degree. Funds will be awarded to students who show an exceptional level of financial need as determined by the Office of Financial Aid and who would otherwise not be able to attend Johns Hopkins. Named in honor of Dr. Cynthia Maung, founder of the Mae Tao Clinic in the Thai-Burma border city of Mae Sot, these students will have demonstrated, like Dr. Maung, a life dedicated to improving public health, whatever the cost or situation. Maung’s passion for treating those directly affected by war serves as further inspiration for the creation of this fund. Preference will be given to medical students at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine completing the 3rd or 4th years of their medical training.
Recipient: George Zhang

The Janice Eddy Mickey Endowment
This scholarship was established in 1997 by the family of Janice Eddy Mickey, DrPH ’68. Dr. Mickey was instrumental in the creation of the Patients’ Bill of Rights through her thesis work at Johns Hopkins. The fund supports students who plan to devote their lives to improving health and human rights worldwide.
Recipient: Claire Karlsson

The Minority Health Award
The Minority Health Award was established in 1991 as a permanent endowment by alumni and friends of the School. It recognizes students with a demonstrated commitment to minority health issues.
Recipient: Sophie Neuner

Procter & Gamble Fellowships
Established by Procter & Gamble in 2003, this fund supports masters, doctoral and post-doctoral students committed to advancing the health and well-being of women and children through the provision of clean water and improved nutrition.
Recipients: Alexandra Bellows
Emily Bryce
Elizabeth Thomas

The Ruth Rice Puffer Fund for International Student Support
Ruth Rice Puffer made many contributions to public health. She came to the School in 1937 to work with Dr. Wade Hampton Frost. Following her tenure with Dr. Frost, she spent her career working on tuberculosis and childhood mortality in various countries. This fund was established by Carol Lewis, MPH ’68 in 1998 to recognize Dr. Puffer’s many contributions to public health and is supported by Dr. Puffer’s friends and family. The fund supports a master’s student studying at the School who is not a United States citizen.
Recipient: Ainelén Liliana Radosevich
SCHOOLWIDE AWARDS

Edyth H. Schoenrich Student Scholarship Fund
Dr. Edyth Schoenrich has been part of Johns Hopkins since 1948, when she arrived as an intern, fresh from the University of Chicago Medical School. At the Bloomberg School of Public Health, she had held appointments as full professor, senior associate dean of academic affairs and associate director of the MPH program. In each role, she has demonstrated her native intelligence, commitment to excellence, outspoken courage, and compassion for students. This fund was established in Edyth’s honor by her sister, Marion Donohue, to support deserving students at the School. Many friends, family and alumni have also contributed to the Fund.

Recipients: Theresa Aguilar
            Rogette Esteve
            Jessica Hawk
            Katherine Heinemann

The Ernest Lyman and Helen Ross Stebbins Scholarship
This scholarship was established in 1988 by alumni, friends, and members of the Stebbins family to memorialize Ernest Stebbins, MD, MPH, and his devotion to students at the School. Dr. Stebbins was Dean from 1946 to 1967, and served on the faculty from 1946 to 1972. A pioneer in the field of preventive medicine, he was also renowned as an outstanding physician, epidemiologist, health commissioner, and professor. He was a charter member, and later president, of the American Board of Preventive Medicine. The Stebbins award is given to students who focus on professional practice.

Recipient: Ben Kahn

Y.C. Yang Student Scholarship
This award is given to outstanding international MPH students.

Recipient: Nyan Lynn Tun

Dr. Chun Hui Yen & Wang Pei Yen Scholarship Fund
This fund honors the memory of Dr. Yen and his wife, acknowledging in particular Dr. Yen’s commitment to public health through his service as a professor at the Peking Union Medical College, his service as Minister of Health for Taiwan and his longstanding association with the Johns Hopkins University. This fund provides annual scholarship support to a student from Taiwan or China who has demonstrated academic excellence and financial need. Preference will be given to students pursuing a MPH degree who have expressed an interest in disease control or health systems.

Recipient: Naiqing Gu

The Watt/Hansell Award
The Watt/Hansell Endowment was established in 1994 by James Watt, MD, DrPH ’36 and Myron Wegman, MD, MPH ’38. The late Dr. Watt was the first of four generations of Watt/Hansell Hopkins graduates to combine medical studies with training in public health. James Watt was a Diplomat of the American Board of Preventive Medicine. His crusade to promote public health led to the creation of the Watt/Hansell Endowment, which supports the cross-training of students in the schools of Public Health and Medicine.

Recipient: Rafa Rahman
            Julia Wainger
Biochemistry and Molecular Biology

The Brian D. Crawford and Family Research Scholarship
To support doctoral students in the Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology.
Recipient: Gloria Marino
Xiben Tian
Haobo Wang
Kyler Weingartner
Stephen Wellard
Emily Wessel
Asia Wildenman

The Elsa Orent Keiles Fellowship in Biochemistry
This fellowship was established in 1996 with a bequest from the estate of Elsa Orent Keiles, ScD ’25, a graduate of the Department of Chemical Hygiene (now Biochemistry and Molecular Biology). In keeping with Dr. Keiles’ research interests, the award provides tuition support for graduate students with demonstrated financial need in the Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology.
Recipient: Morgan Dasovich

Biostatistics

The Helen Abbey Fund
This fund was established by friends, faculty, colleagues, and former students of the late Helen Abbey, ScD ’51, to celebrate her long and fruitful tenure in the Department of Biostatistics. The award provides support for second-year (and later) Biostatistics doctoral candidates who have a commitment to teaching and will be a teaching assistant to students in Biostatistics.
Recipient: Jacob Fiksel

The June Culley Scholarship in Biostatistics
Dr. June E. Culley received a MPH degree from the School in 1970 and earned a doctorate in Health Services Administration in 1981. She was a risk manager for the VA Medical Center at Fort Howard, Maryland. The scholarship, established in 2002 through Dr. Culley’s estate, provides support to deserving students from the Department of Biostatistics.
Recipient: Bonnie Smith

Louis I. Dublin and Thomas D. Dublin Fund for the Advancement of Epidemiology and Biostatistics
Thomas D. Dublin, MD, DrPH ’41, trained as an epidemiologist at the School. His father, Dr. Louis I. Dublin, was a distinguished biostatistician. Their two public health disciplines have long been united by a tradition of collaboration as exemplified by the notable partnership of Lowell Reed and Wade Hampton Frost, and that continued legacy of cooperation is honored with the creation of this fund. This fund will support graduate student education at the junction of Biostatistics and Epidemiology at the School.
Recipients: Sophie Berube
Dylan Duchen
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

Jane and Steve Dykacz Endowment Fund in Medical Statistics
This fund was created in July 1998 to honor Jane and Steve Dykacz by their daughter Janice. This fund provides an award to a faculty or student whose research fosters biostatistical research and practice in order to advance our understanding of human health and disease. The Jane and Steve Dykacz Endowment Fund also supports students whose research advances the practice of statistics applied to public health and medicine, including the translation of statistical methods and tools.
Recipient: Athena Chen

Kocherlakota Award in Biostatistics
Established in 2010, this award honors the 46 successful years of marriage and careers in Biostatistics by Drs. Kathleen and Subrahmanian Kocherlakota until his passing in 2009. Co-authors of Multivariate Analysis: A Selected and Abstracted Bibliography, 1957-1972, authors of numerous peer-reviewed articles and papers, and professors of statistics at the University of Manitoba, the life and work of Drs. Kocherlakota was dedicated to increasing and sharing knowledge with students from around the globe. The award is presented each year to the most outstanding master's level student in the Department of Biostatistics, as evidenced by the score on the first year comprehensive exam.
Recipient: Zebin Wang

Margaret Merrell Fund
This fund has been awarded since 1995 in memory of faculty member Dr. Margaret Merrell ScD, '30. Founded by friends, colleagues, and former students, the fund supports outstanding doctoral students for their work in Biostatistics.
Recipient: Guanghao Qi

Environmental Health and Engineering

Alice J. Gifford Fund for Occupational and Environmental Health Nursing
The Alice Gifford Fund in the Division of Occupational and Environmental Health, Department of Environmental Health Sciences, honors Alice Gifford, PhD, RN, FAAN, and emeritus Associate Professor at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, who in 1977 founded the Occupational Health Nursing Program in the multidisciplinary Education and Research Center, which is funded by the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health. The program continues to support nurses in masters’ and doctoral study. Always a strong advocate of graduate education, Alice promoted the field of occupational and environmental health nursing and served as a mentor to students, graduates, and faculty.
Recipient: Bakary Jallow

The Environmental Health Engineering Student Development Fund
This fund was established by alumni and faculty of the Division of Environmental Health Engineering to support student development, educational goals, and objectives of the industrial hygiene program at the discretion of the director of the occupational and environmental hygiene program.
Recipient: Jia Yi Joyce Lin
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

Kazuyoshi Kawata Fund in Sanitary Engineering and Science
This fund will provide support for students with a focus in sanitary engineering and science in the Department of Environmental Health Sciences. Dr. Kawata served on the faculty at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health from 1966-1989. He is regarded as an international expert, professional engineer, educator and consultant in environmental engineering and environmental health.

Recipient: Jia Yi Joyce Lin

The Dr. C. W. Kruse Memorial Fund
Dr. Krusé served as chair of the Departments of Sanitary Engineering (1962-1963) and Environmental Health Sciences (1966-1976). This award, established by his colleagues, friends, and former students, recognizes academic achievement.

Recipient: Jia Yi Joyce Lin

The David Leslie Swift Fund in Environmental Health Engineering
This fund was established in 1998 by Suzanne Swift in honor of her late husband David Leslie Swift, PhD. Dr. Swift was a faculty member at the School from 1966 to 1997. His research career was distinguished and diverse, and his work on the health effects of particulate matter and air pollutants made him a pioneer in his field. This fund supports exceptional masters, doctoral, or postdoctoral students in the Division of Environmental Health Engineering of the Department of Environmental Health Sciences.

Recipient: Jia Yi Joyce Lin

Morgan-James Scholarship Fund
The Morgan-James Scholarship provides financial assistance to outstanding students whose research interests reflect the distinguished careers in radiation and environmental health sciences of Ors. Russell Morgan and A. Everette James Jr.

Recipient: Yiguang Zhu

The Caplan Scholarship Fund in Climate Change and the Environment
The funds from this scholarship supports a masters or doctoral student who is studying climate change and the environment.

Recipient: Emma Moynihan

Epidemiology

Miriam E. Brailey Fund
Jonathan Samet, MD, MS, former chair of the Department of Epidemiology, established this fund in honor of Dr. Brailey, who received her MD in Medicine in 1930 and her doctorate degree in Epidemiology in 1931. Dr. Brailey was one of the first doctoral students in the Department of Epidemiology, and she also joined the Epidemiology faculty after graduation as its first female faculty member, and taught with Wade Hampton Frost, the founding chair. The scholarship supports graduate training and research in epidemiology.

Recipients: Jean Olivier Twahirwa Rwema
              Shalom Patole
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

The Trudy Bush Fund
Established by friends and colleagues of Dr. Trudy Bush, this fund supports a student pursuing an MHS degree in the Department of Epidemiology with a specialization in women's health. Trudy Bush, PhD, MHS ’80, who died suddenly in March 2001, was an internationally recognized expert in the field of women's health, particularly in the areas of menopause, hormone replacement therapy, and cardiovascular disease in women. She was a faculty member in the Department of Epidemiology for eight years and remained an adjunct professor after moving to the University of Maryland School of Medicine.
Recipient: Anum Minhas

The Centennial Scholars Fund
In honor of the School’s 100th anniversary, the Centennial Scholars Program provides immediate impact funding to recruit the best and the brightest public health students to the Bloomberg School. The Centennial Scholars Fund supports students from all ten academic departments and the MPH Program.
Recipient: Chinenye Ugoji

The Jean Coombs Fund
The Jean Coombs Fund, established through a bequest from the estate of Jean Coombs, PhD ’78, funds doctoral dissertation research by students in the Department of Epidemiology who are focusing on cancer or childhood diseases.
Recipient: Batel Blechter

The Dyar Memorial Fund
The Dyar Memorial Fund was established in 1994 through the estate of Dr. Robert Dyar, MPH ’37, DrPH ’38. This award provides tuition support to graduate students in the Department of Epidemiology who do not yet have an MD degree.
Recipient: Ayobami Akenroye

The Charlotte Ferencz Scholarship in the Department of Epidemiology
Charlotte Ferencz, MD, MPH, who established this fund in 2000, has devoted her professional life to unraveling the enormously complex issues posed by congenital heart disease. This scholarship supports students' research projects in the field of maternal and child health epidemiology. The intention of the scholarship is to have the research, which may be part of the faculty's work, lead to the recipients doctoral or master's thesis.
Recipients: Ellen Howerton
Andrea Molino

Nancy Fink Fund for Scholarship and Service
Established in 2010 by friends, colleagues and family in memory of Nancy E. Fink, who was a senior scientist in the Department of Epidemiology. Nancy was recognized for her remarkable empathy and nurturing approach to mentorship, research and teaching. The fund supports students pursuing a master's degree (MHS, ScM) in the Department of Epidemiology, with preference given to master's degree students in clinical or cardiovascular epidemiology who aspire to become experts in the conduct and coordination of epidemiologic studies.
Recipients: Yumin Gao
Yang Yin
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

Ellen B. Gold Fund for Epidemiology Scholarship
Dr. Gold is a professor and chair of the Department of Public Health Sciences at UC Davis. She studies lifestyle and ovarian function in midlife women, neurotoxicity of organophosphates in children of migrant farm workers, smoking effects on maternal folate and reproductive outcomes, smoking and adverse reproductive health in women, and epidemiology of brain tumors in children. Gold received her PhD in epidemiology from the Bloomberg School of Public Health. Income from the fund supports academically outstanding graduate students in the Department of Epidemiology.
Recipient: Lin Wang

Leon Gordis Centennial Scholarship
This fund, created in honor of long-time faculty member Leon Gordis, MD, DrPH ’68, MPH ’66”, will be used to enhance and expand the teaching opportunities for doctoral students in the Department of Epidemiology.
Recipient: Zhengyi Deng

Abe Lilienfeld Scholarship Fund
Abraham Lilienfeld, MD, MPH, is known as the “father of contemporary chronic disease epidemiology.” He was a major contributor to the 1964 Smoking and Health report issued by the 9th U.S. Surgeon General, Dr. Luther Terry, establishing that tobacco smoking was a serious threat to health. Dr. Lilienfeld was internationally recognized as an expert in cancer research and as a pioneer in developing epidemiological methods for the study of chronic diseases. He received his MPH degree in 1949 from the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health, and joined the faculty of the School as a lecturer in 1950. The scholarship supports exceptional doctoral or master’s students concentrating in the discipline of epidemiology.
Recipient: Kathryn Foti

The Mary B. Meyer Memorial Fund
Mary Bradley Meyer, a faculty member in the Department of Epidemiology, was noted for her landmark studies on the effects of maternal smoking and x-ray exposure on pregnant women. This fellowship, established in 1981 by her family, friends, colleagues, and former students, supports doctoral and post-doctoral students in Epidemiology whose research focuses on the epidemiology of reproduction and infant/child health.
Recipients: Natalya Kostandova
Amrita Rao

The Harvey M. Meyerhoff Fellowship in Cancer Prevention
This fund was established in 2003 by the Joseph Meyerhoff Family Charitable Funds. Harvey M. (Bud) Meyerhoff, a former chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Johns Hopkins Hospital and Health System, has served many years on the boards of both the Health System and the University. He is a well known Baltimore civic leader and philanthropist. Income from the fund supports fellowships in cancer prevention in the Department of Epidemiology.
Recipient: Yuehan Zhang
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe M. Moore Jr., Scholarship in the Department of Epidemiology
Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe M. Moore Jr., established the award in 2000 in honor of Dr. Moore’s parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe M. Moore Sr., of Richmond, Virginia. The scholarship supports a doctoral student, with preference given to graduates of historically black colleges and universities. Dr. Moore is an assistant surgeon general in the U.S. Public Health Service, and associate director for Development Support and African Affairs in the office of International and Refugee Health.

Recipient: Pablo Martinez Amezcua

The Dorothy and Arthur Samet Student Support Fund in Epidemiology
A student fund established in 1996 by Drs. Jonathan Samet and Thomas Dublin was renamed in 2005 and further endowed by Dr. Samet in honor of his parents Dorothy and Arthur. It supports students in the Department of Epidemiology.

Recipients: Maneet Kaur
Riaz Qureshi

The Charlotte Silverman Fund in the Department of Epidemiology
Dr. Charlotte Silverman, MPH ’42, DrPH ’48, an Epidemiology alumna, had a long career in epidemiology at the state and federal levels. She established this fund in 1996 to support outstanding students and junior faculty in Epidemiology whose focus is on epidemiology and policy.

Recipients: Henri Garrison-Desany
Natalya Kostandova
Katherine Robsky

Anna Huffstutler Stiles Scholarship
Created by Dr H. M. "Mac" Stiles in memory of his mother, Anna Huffstutler Stiles, this scholarship will support graduate students in the Department of Epidemiology.

Recipient: Chelsea Liu

The Winifred S. Hayes Doctoral Scholarship Fund in Occupational and Environmental Health Nursing
The gift will be used to support traditional education-related costs of tuition, stipend, health care and/or research funding needs for a student pursuing a PhD in Nursing in either the Epidemiology Dept. or within the Occupational and Environmental Health Nursing (OEHN) Program.

Recipients: Yun Soo Hong
Mingyu Zhang

General Preventive Medicine Residency

David Paton Scholarship in Preventive Medicine
Established in 2001, this fund supports a General Preventive Medicine resident at the Bloomberg School of Public Health. David Paton, MD, is a retired ophthalmologist who received his medical degree from the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine and did his residency at the Wilmer Institute. Since his retirement to Long Island, he has been on the boards of the East Hampton Health Care Foundation, the Southampton Hospital and other similar boards. Dr. Paton strongly supports the concept of preventive medicine.

Recipient: Marissa Tan
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

GlaxoSmithKline Preventive Medicine Residency Scholarship
The GlaxoSmithKline Preventive Medicine Residency Scholarship was established in 1995 with a gift from SmithKline Beecham. The scholarship offers support to a first-year preventive medicine resident.
Recipient: Marissa Tan

Ruth B. and J. Douglas Colman Scholarship
This fund was established in 2001 by the daughters of J. Douglas and Ruth B. Colman. Mr. Colman was one of the founders of Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Maryland. This fund honors Mr. and Mrs. Colman's dedication to high quality health care for all. The Ruth B. and J. Douglas Colman Scholarship provides support to an outstanding student in the preventive medicine residency whose focus is on health policy.
Recipient: Nolan O'Dowd

The General Preventive Medicine Residency Endowment
The General Preventive Medicine Residency Endowment was established in 1994 by graduates of the Preventive Medicine Residency. This fund provides tuition and stipend support for first-year General Preventive Medicine residents.
Recipient: Ruth Stefanos

Health, Behavior and Society

The Centennial Scholars
In honor of the School’s 100th anniversary, the Centennial Scholars Program provides immediate impact funding to recruit the best and the brightest public health students to the Bloomberg School. The Centennial Scholars Fund supports students from all ten academic departments and the MPH Program.
Recipients: Sophia Massey
Luz Mercado

Health Policy and Management

The Marilyn Bergner Award in Health Services Research
Dr. Bergner was a faculty member in the Department of Health Policy and Management from 1986 to 1992. A leader in health services research, she developed the Sickness Impact Profile, a patient questionnaire which measures the level of every-day functioning during the course of illness. This award was established by her husband, Dr. Lawrence Bergner, her colleagues, friends, and students. It supports doctoral students in the health services research track in the Department of Health Policy and Management.
Recipient: Kelly Anderson
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

Pearl and Jeremiah German Scholarship in Gerontology
Scholarship funds will be used to provide tuition assistance and/or stipend support to students at the doctoral level with a declared interest in gerontology, who are enrolled in the Department of Health Policy and Management at the Bloomberg School of Public Health or affiliated with the Welch Center for Prevention, Epidemiology and Clinical Research.

Recipient: Maningbe Keita

The John C. Hume Doctoral Award
Admired for his humor and wisdom, the late Dr. John Hume served as Dean, faculty member, and mentor to many generations of public health professionals. This award, established by faculty, friends, and alumni, honors Dr. Hume's commitment to excellence in doctoral research in public health. This award is granted each year to a continuing student whose research will make a significant impact on the field.

Recipient: Ryan Moran

The Victor P. Raymond Memorial Fund
This award was established in 1994 by friends and family members of the late Dr. Victor Raymond, ScD ’87, a graduate of the Department of Health Policy and Management. Dr. Raymond was influential in one of the most dynamic arenas for public policy development, the U.S. Congress. He spent more than 12 years working on health care research and policy analysis, federal health program management, and legislative affairs. The award supports a continuing doctoral student in the Department whose work has relevance at the national and/or state level.

Recipients: Michael DiStefano
Rachel Presskreiser

Alison Snow Jones Prize
The Alison Snow Jones Prize was established in honor of Alison Snow Jones, former faculty member and alumna of HPM who passed away in January 2011. The Prize honors excellence in the thesis or publication of a Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health doctoral student. It will be awarded by the Department of Health Policy and Management to an outstanding student with work in any of the following topics: health economics, the intersection between ethics and health economics, intimate partner violence, and in women's health. Across the breadth of her academic work, she always strove to serve as a bridge between the academic world and the world beyond the institution she served in order to make a positive change. The award honors excellence in the thesis or publication of a Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School doctoral student.

Recipient: Michael DiStefano
Jonathan Levin

The Barbara Starfield Scholarship
The Barbara Starfield Scholarship Fund supports doctoral students at the School who focus their studies in health services research or health policy, with priority given to those interested in the organization, delivery, and outcomes of primary care and in understanding the impact of equity on health.

Recipient: Debra Bozzi
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

The John P. Young Memorial Fund
This fund was established in 1988 by former students, colleagues, friends, and family members of John P. Young, DEng ’62, professor of Health Policy and Management. The fund is a lasting memorial to a professor who was known for his dedication to the students and the School, especially in the area of management sciences. The fund supports an annual award to an outstanding student in the Department of Health Policy and Management's MHA program.
Recipient: Likhita Kalla

The Sandvold-Hydle Family Scholarship
Income from this fund provides student scholarship support in the Department of Health Policy and Management with consideration being given to students, particularly public health nurses and nurse midwives, who have committed to work in local, state and federal public health sector.
Recipient: Whitney Weber

The William Haddon, Jr. Fellowship in Injury Prevention
The income from this fund is used to provide scholarship funds in the field of injury control and prevention.
Recipient: Nick Meyerson

Susan and Timothy Baker Centennial Scholarship in Gun Control
The Fund will be used to support a student in the Department of Health Policy and Management who is conducting gun policy research. If such a student is unavailable, then at the discretion of the department's chair, the funds may be used to support a student studying injury prevention.
Recipient: Nick Meyerson

The Richard E. Hoffman, MD, MPH Endowed Scholarship for Injury Prevention
This fund supports students interested in studying injury prevention, epidemiology, control, and policy.
Recipient: Nick Meyerson

Nancy A. Robertson Scholarship in Injury Prevention
Income from this fund provides support to doctoral and postdoctoral students in the Department of Health Policy and Management who are doing research on injury prevention.
Recipient: Nick Meyerson

Susan P. Baker Scholarship in Injury Prevention and Control
The Susan P. Baker Scholarship in Injury Prevention and Control supports promising graduate students at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health whose work will prevent and control injuries in the United States and around the world.
Recipients: Beata Debinski
Molly Francis
International Health

Arole-Taylor Underserved Community Health Fellowship Fund
This fund will provide support for students to conduct research and/or carry out fieldwork in an underserved community in order to advance primary health care/community health, which will empower populations to improve the health status of the most vulnerable members of their community.

Recipient: George Mwinnyaa
Leanne Zhang

Timothy D. Baker Endowed Scholarship Fund in International Health
Timothy D. Baker joined the school as a faculty member in the Department of Public Health Administration and as an assistant dean. In 1961, he founded the School's Division of International Health and served as acting director. Over the next five years, he was instrumental in building the Division into the Department of International Health. Among his many contributions, he helped created the fields of manpower planning and injury control in developing countries. He was also a beloved teacher and advisor. This fund, created upon Dr. Baker’s death, provides support for PhD or DrPH candidates in the Department of International Health. This fund provides annual support for PhD and DrPH candidates, with exceptions to include post-doctoral students at the discretion of the Department Chair. Funds may be used for tuition and/or living expenses with equal preference given to students focusing on (or planning to focus on) Injury Control and those with other interests in International Health.

Recipient: Zachary Enumah

Georgeda Buchbinder Fund
Dr. Georgeda Buchbinder received her MPH from the School of Public Health in 1984. She then moved to Hawaii and began a public health career by teaching population science and international health. Her career was progressing extraordinarily well when she was diagnosed with cancer. This fund was established by friends and colleagues after her death to celebrate her all-too-brief career in public health. This fund annually supports students, junior faculty, or other priority projects in international health at the discretion of the chairman of the Department of International Health.

Recipient: Erin Cooney

The Bacon Field Chow Memorial Fellowship
This fellowship was established in 1997 by Mrs. Idella Chow in memory of her husband, Bacon Field Chow, who served on the faculty of the Department of Biochemistry from 1949 until his death in 1973. Dr. Chow was internationally recognized for his studies on the effects of maternal diet on a mother’s offspring. The fellowship supports outstanding doctoral students working in the area of human nutrition research.

Recipients: Audrey Buckland
Elizabeth Graham
Gabrielle Headrick
Lais Miachon
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

The Clements-Mann Fellowship Fund in Vaccine Sciences
Mary Lou Clements-Mann, MD, MPH ’79, professor of International Health, and her husband Jonathan Mann, MD, MPH, visiting professor of Health Policy and Management, died in September 1998 when Swiss Air Flight 111 to Geneva crashed into the North Atlantic. The Manns were at the forefront of the worldwide struggle against AIDS. Dr. Clements-Mann was an internationally known virologist and AIDS researcher who devoted most of her career to developing and testing vaccines to combat respiratory viruses, AIDS, and diarrheal diseases. As professor of International Health, she was the founding director of the Center for Immunization Research, where she worked with colleagues to develop the master's and doctoral programs in vaccine sciences. Dr. Jonathan Mann founded the World Health Organization’s AIDS program and was one of the first scientists to bring the international AIDS crisis to the world’s attention. The Clements-Mann Fellowship was established by family members, friends, and colleagues as a tribute to Mary Lou and Jonathan’s tireless devotion to vaccine development, research, and human rights. The fund supports outstanding graduate students working in vaccine sciences.
Recipient: Bettina Wunderlich

The Diana Hess Memorial Fund
In 1983 the Diana Hess Memorial Fund was established with contributions from her family and friends. Diana Hess, a former Peace Corps volunteer in Kenya, was devoted to improving public health in Africa. The Hess Fund provides an annual scholarship to students in the Department of International Health. The award is based on academic and professional accomplishments. Preference is given to those planning to work in Africa, but this is not a requirement for receipt of the award.
Recipient: Nhi Dinh

Harry D. Krusé Fellowship in Nutrition
Harry D. Krusé, MD, ScD, collaborated with E.V. McCollum in the latter’s renowned vitamin research, and served with distinction for many years as a faculty member in the Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology. This fellowship, established in 1987 by the Krusé family, supports a continuing doctoral candidate in nutrition who has displayed outstanding achievement and promise.
Recipient: Shannon King

The Richard H. Morrow Endowed Scholarship Fund in Health Systems
Dr. Richard Morrow was widely known for his expertise in quality assurance management methods for developing countries; the development of burden of disease measures and their use in health sector reform; and epidemiologic methods for field trials in developing countries. Before his death, Dr. Morrow and his wife, Helga, established a student scholarship fund to provide financial support to doctoral students whose focus is on creating new or better pathways to improving health among the world’s underserved populations.
Recipient: Prativa Baral
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

John Snow, Inc. Award in International Health
John Snow, Inc.’s mission is to provide an extensive range of research and consulting services to the health care and service sectors. The International Division provides technical assistance designed to enhance the effectiveness and quality of public health programs. The John Snow, Inc. Award, an annual award created in 2001, provides financial assistance to outstanding, second-year students in the Department of International Health who are engaged in internships in the field.

Recipient: Jenna Sinkevitch

The Nancy Stephens Student Support Fund
Established in 1970 as the International Health Fund, this fund provides grants to masters’ or doctoral students in the Department of International Health who are completing their degrees. For 37 years Nancy Stephens was an immensely popular student coordinator in the Department of International Health. At her retirement in 2001, Dr. Robert Black, chairman of the Department, honored her by renaming this fund the Nancy Stephens Student Support Fund.

Recipients: Ryanne Fujita-Conrads
           Elizabeth Thomas

The Mary and Carl Taylor Fund
The Mary and Carl Taylor Fund was created in 1995 with contributions from faculty and alumni in honor of the Taylors’ commitment to the students of the School of Public Health and to improving international health through research and action. The fund provides support to a student working in the area of international bioethics.

Recipients: Ankita Meghani
           Julia Stellmann

The Robert D. and Helen S. Wright Fund
This fund was established in 1983 with donations from family members and friends of former International Health faculty member Robert Wright, MD, MPH ’40. The Fund provides support for continuing doctoral students who expect to contribute to the improvement of public health in Africa, particularly in Nigeria.

Recipient: George Mwinnyaa

Harry D. Kruse Publication Award in Human Nutrition

Recipients: Ramya Ambikapathi
           Hyunju Kim
           Quinn Marshall
           Anita Panjwani
           Marie L. Spiker
Mental Health

Dr. Ali Kawi Doctoral Scholarship in Mental Health Research
Established in 2011, this fund will support outstanding students pursuing a doctoral degree in the Department of Mental Health continuing the legacy of Dr. Ali Kawi, a graduate of the Department, and his work in research and education in neuropsychiatric disorders, psychosomatic research and prenatal factors in reading disorders, and learning and mental health.

Recipient: Geoffrey Kahn

The Morton Kramer Fund for the Application of Biostatistics and Epidemiology in Research on the Prevention and Control of Mental Disorders
This fund was established by the late Morton Kramer, ScD ’39, an internationally renowned research scientist in the Department of Mental Health. The income from this fund provides an annual award to an outstanding doctoral student in the Department who has demonstrated excellence in application of biostatistical and epidemiological methods to the solution of problems in research dedicated to advancing our knowledge of the epidemiology and prevention of mental disorders.

Recipient: Kira Riehm

The Paul V. Lemkau Scholarship Fund
As the first chair of the Department of Mental Health (1962-1975), Paul Lemkau, MD, instituted the study of mental health within a public health framework. This fund, established by friends, colleagues, and family members, is given to a Department of Mental Health student or fellow who has made a significant difference in the community life of the department.

Recipient: Emily Smail

The Lucy Shum Memorial Scholarship Fund
Income from this fund will provide tuition support for a student in the Department of Mental Health at the Bloomberg School of Public Health who will work in the area of public health policy for mental health issues. The donors to this fund also wish to honor their Chinese heritage by encouraging students of Chinese origin to pursue the academic area which this fund supports, with preference given to students of Chinese origin.

Recipient: Kayla Tormohlen

Alberta Szalita Fund in Mental Health
This Fund annually supports a graduate student or junior faculty member in the Department of Mental Health at the discretion of the Chair of the department. Preference will be given to recipients who are clinically trained.

Recipient: Shoshanna Fine

Wendy Klag Memorial Fund
Income from this fund supports students and post-doctoral fellows who are working on issues related to the health and well-being of children.

Recipient: Xueqi (Snow) Qu
W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology

Frederik B. Bang Award
Frederik Bang, MD, served as chair of the Departments of Parasitology from 1953 to 1955 and Pathobiology from 1955 to 1981. His research was noted for translating the microscopic to the macroscopic. Dr. Bang was an extraordinarily creative scientist whose interests ranged from microscopy to animal ecology. By using the blood of the horseshoe crab, Dr. Bang and a colleague, Dr. Jack Levin, developed a procedure to identify and diagnose meningitis in septicemia, a blood poison illness that once struck 75,000 young people a year. His widow, the late Betsy Bang, and various family members and colleagues, established this fund in his memory to support a doctoral student engaged in research relevant to pathobiology.

Recipients: Mary Gebhardt
Gloria Marino

The A. Ralph and Sylvia E. Barr Fellowship in Vector Biology
During his extensive career in public health, Dr. Ralph Barr, with his wife Sylvia at his side, made many significant, and original contributions to the field of medical entomology and tropical medicine. Mrs. Barr established this fund in memory of her late husband to support a doctoral or postdoctoral student in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology who is working with vectors of infectious diseases in the organisms' natural habitats.

Recipient: Mary Gebhardt

The Eleanor A. Bliss Honorary Fellowship
The Eleanor Bliss Honorary Fellowship, established in 1989 by Eleanor Bliss, ScD ’25, is awarded each year to a deserving doctoral student in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology. Dr. Bliss, a 1925 bacteriology graduate, taught at the schools of Arts and Sciences, and Medicine, in addition to the School of Public Health. The award symbolizes the spirit of Dr. Bliss’s work in what was then the Department of Medical Zoology.

Recipient: Alysha Ellison

The Otis and Calista Causey Fellowship for Immunology
This fellowship was established in 1988 by alumna Calista Causey, ScD ’25. Dr. Causey, who served on the Department of Biochemistry faculty in the 1920s and 1930s, created the award to recognize outstanding doctoral students in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology.

Recipient: Alexis Mann

Frances A. Coventry Fund
This fund was created in 1995 by the estate of Dr. Frances Coventry, who in 1924 received her doctorate degree from Department of Immunology and Infectious Diseases (now the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology). Income from this fund provides support for outstanding students at the Bloomberg School of Public Health.

Recipient: Georgia Stavrakis
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

Dr. J. Harold Drudge Scholarship
This fund was established in 2005 by gifts from the Estate of Harold Drudge and his daughter, Caran C. St. John. Dr. Drudge was a graduate of the School and worked on treatments for intestinal parasites at the University of Kentucky. Income from this fund provides support for parasitology students in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology.

Recipient: Victoria Balta

Emergent BioSolutions Centennial Scholarships and Fellowships
This award is open to PhD and ScM candidates in the Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology engaged in or planning thesis research on a disease of global public health importance. Two awards are presented annually: one to an MMI PhD student entering his/her third year, and one to an ScM candidate entering his/her second year. PhD funding continues for three years; ScM funding is for one year.

Centennial Scholars: Zachary Stolp
Grant Butscheck

Fellowship Recipients: Paul Delgado
Sharvari Deshpande
Ella Gehrke
Taewoo Kim
Zeshuo Li
Xiao Ma
Zhiming Mao
Ritwik Singhal
Siddhant Vyas

Martin Frobisher Fellowship Fund
The Martin Frobisher Fellowship Fund was established in 1990 by friends and colleagues in memory of Dr. Frobisher, ScD ’25, who taught pathology and microbiology at the School until the late 1930s. Dr. Frobisher was an exceptional teacher and mentor, and was recognized for his strong commitment to young people and to new approaches for educating future microbiologists. The award supports outstanding doctoral candidates in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology.

Recipient: Aliyah Silver

Diane Griffin Scholarship
This scholarship provides support for students in the Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology, at the discretion of the Chair.

Recipient: Megan Wood

The Dr. Bettylee Hampil Fellowship
The Bettylee Hampil Fellowship was established in 1985 by Dr. Bettylee Hampil, a 1927 graduate of the Department of Immunology and Infectious Diseases (now the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology) and a pioneer researcher in virology. The award provides support to an outstanding doctoral candidate in the department.

Recipient: Patrick Creisher
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

The Hegner, Cort, Root Memorial Scholarship Fund in Immunology & Infectious Disease
The Hegner, Cort, Root Honorary Fellowship was established in 1989 by Drs. Gilbert Otto, Lloyd Rozeboom, and Aurel Foster, and generously supported by many alumni, faculty, family, and friends to perpetuate the memory of Drs. Robert Hegner, William W. Cort, and Francis Root, three giants of the School's early years. This award supports a doctoral student in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology.

Recipient: Jarrett Venezia

The Carlton and Estelle Herman Award in Parasitology, Vector Biology and Animal-Borne Diseases
Established by Carlton and Estelle Herman and their son Richard Herman, the award will be given annually to a doctoral student in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology whose research work in parasitology, vector biology and animal-borne diseases demonstrates great promise and excellence.

Recipient: Ella Jacobs

Richard J. Herman Endowed Scholarship
This scholarship supports promising doctoral students in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology at the discretion of the Department Chair and with a preference for those whose research is in parasitology, vector biology and animal-borne diseases.

Recipient: Adriano Franco

The Dr. Harry J. Lawler Award Fund
This award was established in 1998 by Helen R. Lawler, widow of Harry J. Lawler, MD, ScD. Dr. Lawler enjoyed a long and distinguished career in pediatrics and psychiatry. The award recognizes the work of an outstanding student in Molecular Microbiology and Immunology and provides support for further study.

Recipient: Madhura Kulkarni

The Dr. Lloyd and Mae Rozeboom Scholarship
This award was created from the Lloyd E. Rozeboom Lectureship in Medical Entomology, established in 1993 with contributions from Dr. and Mrs. Rozeboom and their friends. Dr. Rozeboom received his ScD in medical entomology in 1934 and served on the faculty for more than 35 years. He was an internationally recognized authority on the transmission of mosquito-borne diseases and a beloved teacher. Both Dr. and Mrs. Rozeboom were known for their devotion to students. The scholarship supports students who are studying medical entomology/vector biology in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology.

Recipient: Dorian Jackson

Calvin and Helen Lang Student Scholarship
The Calvin and Helen Lang Fund will support students in the W. Harry Feinstone Molecular Microbiology and Immunology Department who study mosquito-borne diseases and mosquitoes as models for diseases and natural processes, such as aging.

Recipient: Benjamin Nguyen
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

Keerti V. Shah Fund
Established by Keerti V. Shah, MD, MPH, professor in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology, and his wife, Farida, income from this fund will support students working in the area of translational research in infectious diseases.
Recipient: Leon Hsieh

The Katharine E. Welsh Fellowship in Immunology & Infectious Disease
The late Katharine Welsh, a protozoology student, established this fellowship in 1990. It provides support for an outstanding student in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology. When Ms. Welsh was studying Immunology and Zoology in the late 1920s, she was only one of four pioneering women to do so. She pursued a career with the Baltimore City Health Department Laboratories that spanned more than 35 years. Ms. Welsh began as a junior bacteriologist and was acting director when she retired.
Recipient: Hannah Kalinoski

The Ruth G. Wittler Student Scholarship Fund
The scholarship was established in 2000 by the estate of Ruth G. Wittler, PhD, MPH, of Annapolis, Maryland, who received her doctorate degree in 1944, specializing in filterable viruses. Dr. Wittler was a retired microbiologist from Western Reserve University. She was interested in the Chesapeake Bay environment and active in the Bay Ridge Organization and the Ginger Cove Governance Committee. This scholarship supports students working in the laboratory sciences in the W. Harry Feinstone Department of Molecular Microbiology and Immunology.
Recipient: Angela (Jie) Chen

The Jane Welsh Russell Fund for Innovative Research in Infectious Diseases
This fund will provide annual support to a doctoral or post-doctoral student in the Dept. of MMI, or research funds to a jr. faculty member in the Dept. of MMI.
Recipient: Beejan Asady

Population, Family and Reproductive Health

The Cheryl Alexander Memorial Student Scholarship
Dr. Alexander, a noted researcher in adolescent behavior and health, was a longtime professor on the faculty. She was the first director of the Center for Adolescent Health Promotion and Disease Prevention. Under her guidance, the center became a major force in Baltimore and a national model. Income from this fund will support students in the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health at the Bloomberg School of Public Health whose focus is on adolescent health.
Recipient: Anne Smith

The Caroline Cochran Scholarship Fund in Population and Reproductive Health
Income from this fund provides tuition assistance to incoming or continuing graduate students interested in population and reproductive health.
Recipient: Grace Sheehy
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

The Donald Cornely Scholarship Fund in Maternal & Child Health
This scholarship was created by family and friends of Donald Cornely, MD, MPH ’58, as well as alumni of the former Department of Maternal and Child Health. It honors Dr. Cornely's many contributions to the department during his tenure as chair from 1970 to 1990, and supports doctoral students in the Department whose research has application in the field of maternal and child health.
Recipient:  Mengmeng Li

The Edward J. Dehne Award in Population Dynamics
The late Edward Dehne, MD, MPH ’41, DrPH ’55, had a distinguished career in medicine and public health, with a concentration in occupational health. He served in the U.S. Army from 1941 through 1966, when he retired with the rank of colonel. Among his many assignments, he was commander of the Army Hygiene Agency and consultant to the Surgeon General in preventive and occupational medicine. Dr. Dehne created this award to encourage and support doctoral students pursuing population studies research in the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health.
Recipient:  Mingxin Chen

The Endowed Fellowship in Family Planning and Reproductive Health
Established in 1996, this fund provides support to graduate students or post-doctoral fellows in the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health who are working in the area of family planning and reproductive health.
Recipients:  Carolina Cardona Cabrera
            Carmela Magalona

Bernard and Jane Guyer Scholarship Fund
Dr. Bernard Guyer has dedicated four decades to improving the health of mothers, children and families worldwide. He joined the faculty in 1989 as professor and chair of the Department of Maternal and Child Health and later chaired the new Department of Population and Family Health Sciences from 1998-2003. Dr. Guyer has taught and mentored hundreds of students at the Bloomberg School of Public Health. This scholarship provides support to graduate students within the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health whose primary focus is maternal and child health. The funds cannot be used for programs involving abortion or embryonic stem cell research.
Recipient:  Lauren Hosterman

The C. Esther and Paul A. Harper Fund
Students, colleagues, and friends of Dr. Paul A. Harper, MD, MPH ’47, the first chair of the former Department of Population Dynamics, established this award at the time of Dr. Harper’s retirement. The fund supports students whose research focuses on population issues and students studying maternal and child health whose academic performance has been judged outstanding.
Recipient:  Blair Berger
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

Young J. Kim Memorial Scholarship
Dr. Kim was devoted to teaching, research and mentoring, and was beloved by her students. The Young J. Kim Scholarship has been established by family, colleagues and friends to help support international masters and doctoral level students in the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health who will carry on Dr. Kim's legacy of academic excellence in demography and population research.

Recipients: Mingxin Chen
Sneha Lamba

Dr. Michael Koenig Memorial Fund
Established in 2010 by family and friends of Dr. Michael Koenig, this fund supports doctoral students in the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health who plan to travel internationally for their dissertation research.

Recipient: Kristin Bevilacqua

The Carl Swan Shultz Endowment Fund
The Carl Swan Shultz Fellowship, created by Mrs. Carl Shultz to honor her late husband’s work in population research, provides support for meritorious doctoral students in reproductive health, family planning, demography, or reproductive biology. Dr. Shultz was a former U.S. Assistant Surgeon General and director of the Office of Population Affairs in the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. He played a major role in developing federal policy on family planning.

Recipient: Mridula Shankar

The Jean and Sidney Silber Fund in Population, Family and Reproductive Health
Established by Jean and Sidney Silber through the Jean and Sidney Silber Foundation, Inc., this fund provides a stipend to a student at the Center for Adolescent Health Promotion and Disease Prevention interning and/or working on a research project in partnership with a community organization. The Silbers are friends of the School with an interest in population concerns in Baltimore.

Recipient: Bianca Smith

The Josephine Kohn and Family Fund
This fund is used to provide support to a doctoral or post-doctoral student studying in the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health.

Recipient: Selena Anjur-Dietrich

The Lisa L. Paine Graduate Fellowship in Nurse Midwifery, Perinatal, Maternal and Women's Health
The income from this fund will support a graduate student in the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health with leadership and research interests in midwifery, perinatal, maternal or women's health.

Recipient: Lauren Hosterman
DEPARTMENTAL AWARDS

The Kann Trowbridge Fund
The Kann Trowbridge Fund was established in 1995 by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander B. Trowbridge and the S. Kann Sons Company Foundation. Income from this fund provides a fellowship to a U.S. student in the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health who has demonstrated outstanding academic achievement, financial need and is committed to promoting national efforts in family planning and reproductive health. The Fund may also be used to support important faculty research and education projects in family planning and reproductive health.

Recipients: Elizabeth Larson
   Neisha Opper

The Willian Endowment for Excellence in Science
Income from this fund supports U.S. doctoral students in the Department of Population, Family and Reproductive Health working in the field of maternal and child health whose work focuses on issues of health policy and management for women and children. The fund was established by alumna Mary Kaye Willian, DrPH '82, MPH '79, and friends in honor of Dr. Willian's parents, Irene V. and Raymond V. Willian.

Recipient: Lauren Hosterman

Fund in Recognition of Laurie Schwab Zabin for Population and Family Planning Students
The fund was established by alumni, faculty, family, and friends in honor of Laurie Schwab Zabin, professor of Population, Family and Reproductive Health and the founding director of the Bill & Melinda Gates Institute for Population and Reproductive Health. Dr. Zabin has devoted her career to research that addresses women’s reproductive health and rights and to her belief that science should serve social change. The fund supports graduate students in PFRH who are focusing their studies on family planning and reproductive health. Preference will be given to students who are U.S. citizens planning to work in other countries, but the fund may also be used for U.S. students committed to work in disadvantaged areas of the United States.

Recipient: Dana Sarnak
Faculty and Student Awards for Public Health Practice

These awards recognize faculty members and master’s and doctoral students for outstanding contributions in public health practice. Awards are given in three categories: excellence in international public health practice; excellence in U.S. public health practice (excluding Baltimore); and excellence in Baltimore-based public health practice (awarded jointly with SOURCE). Supported by the Office of Public Health Practice and Training.

Excellence in Baltimore Public Health Practice

Student: Ainelen Radosevich
Faculty: Lee Bone
Staff: Katrina Brooks

Excellence in U.S. Public Health Practice

Student: Deepa Joshi
Faculty: Caitlin Rivers
Staff: Rebecca Williams

Excellence in International Public Health Practice

Student: Kaley Waring
Faculty: Jennifer Nuzzo
Staff: Fitri Putjuk

SOURCE AWARDS

This community engagement and service-learning center serves the Johns Hopkins University schools of Medicine, Nursing and Public Health. This award recognizes students and groups who have made an outstanding contribution to local community-based organizations during the past academic school year.

Community Service Award (individual)
Recipient: Nicole Fischer

SOURCE Community Service Award (group)
Recipient: Rotaract Club
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION AWARDS

The Johns Hopkins University Alumni Association Excellence in Teaching Awards
Each year the Johns Hopkins University Alumni Association honors professors for their outstanding abilities as teachers.

Recipients:
- Large-sized class: Timothy Shields
- Medium-sized class: Jeremy Shiffman
- Small-sized class: Alan Scott
- Offsite/Online class: John McGready

STUDENT ASSEMBLY AWARDS

AMTRA Award (Advising, Mentoring, & Teaching Recognition)
The AMTRAs are given to faculty or instructors who demonstrate a commitment to teaching, advising and mentoring students and who make significant contributions to student quality of life. Recipients are chosen by the Awards Committee of the Student Assembly, based on nominations and testimonials by students.

Recipients:
- Abhirup Datta
- Margaret Daniele Fallin
- Mary Elizabeth Hughes
- Vanessa Garcia Larsen
- Carl Latkin
- Ramin Mojtabai
- Noel T. Mueller
- Johannes Thrul
- John Vernick
- Holly C. Wilcox

Golden Apple Awards
The Golden Apple is awarded by the Student Assembly to faculty chosen for excellence in teaching, based on nominations and subsequent popular vote of the student body at large.

Recipients:
- Large-sized class: Timothy M. Shields
- Medium-sized class: Jeremy Shiffman
- Small-sized class: Alan Scott
- Offsite/Online class: John McGready
The following Student Assembly Awards are bestowed by the student body to acknowledge the recipients’ special contributions to student life:

Staff Recognition Award
Recipients: Ansu Bafalie
Betty May
Kevin Rodgers
Shawn E. Rogers

Student Recognition Award
Recipients: Ben Ackerman
Daniel Ehrenpreis
Ambulai Johnson

Teaching Assistant Recognition Award
Recipients: Fernanda Alonso
Mingyu Zhang
SOMMER SCHOLARS

Thanks to a unique and unprecedented gift from an anonymous donor, the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health established the Hopkins Sommer Scholars Program. Named at the donor’s request in honor of Dean Emeritus Alfred Sommer, Sommer Scholars are selected for their scholarly abilities and leadership potential to develop the next generation of public health leaders. The scholarship provides full tuition and a stipend.

2019-2020 Hopkins Sommer Scholars:

Houssam Alnahhas
Luana Araujo
Dinesh Arora
Erin Beasley
Diana Bongiorno
Mihir Chaudhary
Li Chen
Alix Faddoul
Waqas Haque
Ahmed Ibrahim
Mikaela Kelly
Banda Abdallah Abubakar Khalifa
Nelson Malone
Katherine Narvaez Mena
Shamelle Richards
Allyn Rosenberger
Samuel Volkin
Michael Yong
Honors & Awards Committee

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Position</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Dr. David Sullivan  | Professor, Molecular Microbiology and Immunology
|                     | Chair, Honors and Awards Committee         |
| Brian Caffo         | Professor, Biostatistics                      |
| Sara Benjamin Neelon| Associate Professor, Health, Behavior and Society |
| Elizabeth Selvin    | Professor, Epidemiology                       |
| Jiou Wang           | Associate Professor, Biochemistry and Molecular Biology |
| Heather Volk        | Associate Professor, Mental Health            |
| Jennifer Moessbauer | Academic Affairs Administrator                 |
| Areisa Peters       | Student Representative                         |