Johns Hopkins Medicine International (JHI) is the international arm of Johns Hopkins Medicine with a mission to advance the institution’s vision of improving health care throughout the world through excellence in patient care, education and research.

The organization has more than a decade of experience collaborating with governments, non-governmental organizations, academic institutions, private health care providers and other health care organizations around the world to reinvigorate or develop radically new models of health care delivery. JHI also provides personalized, culturally appropriate care for patients traveling to Johns Hopkins from outside Maryland and the United States.

JHI is calling out to all highly qualified graduate students in MBA/MHA/MPH programs around the world to apply for the Graduate Summer Internship Program.

POSITION SUMMARY:

The summer internship is a 10-week program that allows the intern to gain unparalleled exposure into JHI’s operations in Baltimore and around the globe. The intern will be able to work on various projects performing analytical and quantitative roles at our central Baltimore office. Division Leaders, Project Administrators and Associates will serve as mentors for specific skills and different areas of expertise.

The Graduate Intern is responsible for the completion of projects as assigned by JHI Leadership and by his/her preceptors. The position can be assigned to projects in International Patient Services (IPS) or Global Services (GS).

The range of projects at IPS may include: International Patient Intake and Coordination, Patient Experience, Business & Decision Support, Finance, Billing & Collection, Care Management, and Embassy Relations.

The range of projects at GS may include: Business Improvement and Program Development Overseas, Qualitative and Quantitative Market Research, Business Intelligence, Proposal Development, Report Writing and Editing, Translations, and Logistical Support.

COMPETENCIES:

Education:
Eligible candidates will be working towards a Master’s Degree in Business Administration, Public Health, International Business or related field.

Skills:
- Requires critical thinking and systems-perspective analytical abilities with the flexibility to understand micro level details
- Requires strong analytical ability to gather, interpret and research data from various sources
- Requires excellent communication and interpersonal skills to effectively communicate and interface with diverse levels of staff and business-related associates

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:

Please send the most recent copy of your CV and a personal statement of interest explaining why JHI and what you expect to gain from your internship experience. (500 words)

Applications are due February 14, 2014.

Please send all materials to: bseo@jhmi.edu