The Eighth Annual
Legends and Young’uns
2013 CONFERENCE

“Phenomenal Women Living
Longer with the Challenge of HIV”

The Johns Hopkins University AIDS Education Training Center (AETC) and Older Women Embracing Life (OWEL), in collaboration with Morgan State University School of Community Health and Policy, will host the Eighth Annual Legends and Young’uns Conference. This full day regional conference will address the unique issues of women living with the challenge of HIV/AIDS, both those perinatally infected and newly diagnosed – the “Young’uns,” as well as those living well and aging up in their senior years – the “Legends.” Experts in the field will provide current information pertaining to the treatment and management of HIV/AIDS in women, including prevention, education, testing, life skills and resource information, via plenary presentations and interactive workshops.

TARGETED AUDIENCE: Females Only
Nurses, social workers, outreach workers, counselors, case managers and female consumers.
