Agenda

• What is a food policy council

• Steps in creating a sustainable local food policy council

• Identify successful initiatives for food policy councils and strategies to support these efforts
What is a food policy?

“Any decision made by a entity of power which shapes the type of food used or available – as well as their cost – or which influences the opportunities for farmers and employees, or affects the food choices available to consumers.”

Local Food System

Benefits to the community

Local Food System Sectors

Community-Based Food System

- Environmental stewardship
- Economic development
- Jobs
- Farmland preservation
- Community & social vitality
- Healthy individuals
- Retailing
- Preparing
- Eating
- Producing
- Small- & medium-scale farm viability
Structures, Policies, Systems
Local, state, federal policies and laws to regulate/support healthy actions

Institutions
Rules, policies & informal structures

Community
Norms, Standards

Interpersonal
Family, peers, social networks

Individual
Knowledge, attitudes, beliefs
Examples:
- A decision by school officials to maintain a minimum of 20% of food purchasing dollars to be spent on foods raised by local farmers
- Local governments and institutions set nutrition standards for all food served and sold on site
- Increase the ability of low-income residents to participate in food assistance programs at multiple locations within their community
- Regulatory and laws are examined for low-risk food-based business to eliminate or reduce unnecessary transaction costs and regulatory burdens
- Zoning regulations that restrict the marketing of unhealthy foods to children
What is a food policy council?

• Connects all aspects of a local food system
• Examines food system
• Addresses food issues
• Suggests policy changes
Purpose of a food policy council

• Strengthens the local food system by connecting its various sectors

• Encourages networks and collaboration on project between food sectors

• Tackles critical issues in the community regarding farm and food

• Can leverage resources and gain audience of local policy makers

• Can improve the quality of life through nutrition and economic improvements
Food Policy Council vs. Government

- Food system networks can address a variety of issues not normally examined by government such as:
  - Food assistance programs
  - Causes of hunger in a society
  - Empowerment of individuals to take charge of change
  - Mapping and publicizing local food resources
  - Creating new transit routes to connect underserved areas with full-service grocery stores
  - Persuading government agencies to purchase from local farmers
  - Organizing community gardens and farmers’ markets
“Steps” to Creating a Food Policy Council

1. Develop a planning committee
2. Assess the community’s needs
3. Establish committee framework
4. Take action to meet goals
5. Evaluate
6. Network and market the council
Not an exact science!

- There is no “exact recipe” for creating a local food policy council
  - Political climate
  - Geography
  - Scope
  - Capacity
  - Funding
  - Environment
  - Demographics
  - Food system gaps
Governance

• Majority of current councils nationally are independent of local government

• Can be “sanctioned” by government
  – Resolution
  – City ordinance
  – Sub-committee of local government

• List of councils/networks and their governance
  – www.foodsecurity.org/FPC/council.html
Governments can…

• Legitimize actions of the food policy council
• Serve as a food system planning venue and promote coordination between food system stakeholders
• Consider access to affordable food retail outlets in local planning
• Accept responsibility for ensuring that food goals are met
• Allocate government resources, regulation, management and administration
• Be responsible for public education and awareness
• Cause conflicts of interest
• Cripple ability to tackle certain issues
Governance examples

• Greater Grand Rapids (MI) Food Systems Council
  – Independent, non-profit, non-political, membership based

• New Haven (CT) Food Policy Council
  – City ordinance

• Dane County (WI) Food Policy Council
  – Resolution passed by county board

• Santa Fe (NM) Food Policy Council
  – Joint resolution between Santa Fe County and the City of Santa Fe
Sample Goals for local food policy councils

• Increase and improve access to nutritious, affordable and culturally suitable foods

• Ensure availability of inner-city supermarkets

• Promote healthful eating

• Encourage nutrition education in schools

• Build sustainable food systems

• Promote household and community gardens and community supported agriculture

• Promote buying/utilizing local food

• Promote local food processing

• Develop emergency feeding programs

• Promote local farmers markets

<tr>
<th>LOCAL AGENDA PRIORITIES</th>
<th>1. Expand and increase innovative methods to bring healthy foods to underserved areas as well as strategies to encourage their consumption.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Community-based</td>
<td>2. Improve school food environments and reduce school sales of low-nutrient, high-sugar, high-fat and calorie-dense foods through snack and vending machines or competitive food sales.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>3. Maximize use of current public benefit programs for vulnerable populations, especially children and seniors, and link them with strategies for healthy food access.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>4. Provide outreach, training and technical assistance to launch new grocery stores and improve existing stores to better serve underserved people in urban and rural areas.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Land use-based</td>
<td>5. Establish food business districts to encourage food businesses to locate in the same area and to support their collaboration.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>6. Use policy and planning strategies to increase access to healthy food in underserved areas.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Market-based</td>
<td>7. Review and seek appropriate revisions to state and local land use policies to preserve farmland and blend protection with farm viability programs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>8. Encourage institutions – including schools, hospitals, colleges and universities – to use their collective purchasing power to influence the food supply chain to provide healthier food and more foods grown, raised and processed in Michigan.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
1. Facilitate policies for preferential purchasing maximizing available Michigan-grown and processed products.

2. Facilitate policies to ensure foods served meet nutrition standards.

3. Work with school districts on breakfast.

4. Set healthy meeting policies, farm-to-work policies, and lactation support policies.

5. Implement breastfeeding policies with hospitals and health care providers.

6. Implement local zoning policies to restrict marketing of unhealthy foods to kids.

7. Local policies to support home gardening, beekeeping, and backyard chicken ordinances.
