

Speaker Request Form

The Johns Hopkins Public Health Preparedness Programs (JHPHPP) often assists our local partners by providing Subject Matter Experts (SME) to give special lectures, lead discussion groups, participate in panels, and run tabletop exercises pertaining to public health preparedness. In order to connect our partners with the appropriate Programs faculty/staff, please complete this form and fax to our offices at 410-955-0617. Upon receipt a member of our staff will contact you to discuss your needs and triage your request to the appropriate person.
