The Johns Hopkins Preparedness and Emergency Response Learning Center, Johns Hopkins Hospital, and Institute
For Johns Hopkins Nursing are pleased to offer:

RAPID
PSYCHOLOGICAL FIRST AID

WORKSHOP OVERVIEW/DETAILS:
The Johns Hopkins RAPID- Psychological First Aid workshop is a one-day, interactive, face-to-face training that provides non-mental health professionals with the concepts and skills associated with Psychological First Aid.

Utilizing the RAPID model (Reflective listening, Assessment of needs, Prioritization, Intervention, and Disposition), this specialized training provides perspectives on injuries and trauma that are beyond those physical in nature.

Additionally, the RAPID model is readily applicable to healthcare settings, the workplace, the military, faith-based organizations, mass disaster venues, and even the demands of more commonplace critical events, e.g., dealing with the psychological aftermath of accidents, robberies, suicide, homicide, or community violence, and catastrophic injuries.

As an organizational leader, we recognize that you utilize these skills daily. We are happy to provide you with formal training that will enhance your skills and give you tools to use as you respond to patient, family, staff and organizational needs.

This training is free of charge, but space is limited.
